PART 1

INFORMATION ON THE COMPANY

Introduction

The business of the Company is an alternative provider of electricity to the domestic and business user market, delivering Green Electricity via the Licence Provider. The Company, together with its Licence Provider, deliver electricity to domestic and business users via the National Grid. The Service has been in place since 2001

The Business

The Company's aim is to provide consumers in England Scotland and Wales with electricity which is more environmentally friendly than is commonly available from its rivals and to offer its Customers the chance to share in the Company's ownership and future direction.

Green Energy offers two tariff arrangements to reduce the carbon emissions from electricity generation to meet needs today, and by facilitating investment in new renewable energy projects for the future.

Deep Green  - 100% deep green renewable electricity. The very best you can do for the planet. The electricity is sourced from free falling water, wind, biomass, solar and the tides.

Pale Green  - 100% green electricity- competitively priced. This is cleaner greener electricity from low impact combined heat and power.

Some 70% of the power the company has under contract comes from generators that were not in business when green energy UK commenced trading.

The Company is run commercially and in the best interests of the Shareholders/Customers. The company regularly communicates with its Shareholders/ Customers and to ensure that their interests are represented at Board level.

Whilst the Company's Green Electricity is supplied on the same principles as the other green tariffs there is a crucial difference: Green Energy founders' intention is that the Company should be ultimately 50% owned by its Customers.

The Customer Shares

The Directors aim to involve Customers in the success of the Company by issuing the first 100,000 Customers with Customer Shares free of charge. The Customer Shares are not designed to raise any funds but are being offered by the Directors in order to involve the Customers in the Company, its objectives and its financial results.

The Customer Shares will be issued fully paid up to Customers. The Directors intend that up to 48,000,000 Customer will be allotted on the following basis:-

- i) 400 Customer Shares will be allotted to each of the first 100,000 Customers of the Company;
- ii) the Directors may at their discretion offer allocations of Customer Shares to Persons who they consider to be instrumental in the growth of the Company; they refer to these Persons as Ambassadors and
- iv) allotments of Customer Shares will be made monthly on the last Business Day of each month to Customers. Customers will be notified of the allotment of their Customer Shares by email or letter.

The Customer Shares may be allotted at any time after 18th June 2001 . The Customer Shares will rank pari passu in respect of voting rights and entitlement to profits with the 'A' Ordinary Shares of the Company but they may be redeemed at the option of the Company for a total of 1 pence for the Customer's entire holding if the holder does not remain a Customer for the three consecutive calendar years after the date of allotment. Customers who receive Customer Shares will as a term of their acceptance, agree to waive their rights to any redemption monies payable. Certificates will not be issued for the Customer Shares until after the three year time-span.

The Directors undertake that they will personally pay up in full the nominal value of Customer Shares as and when they are allotted by the Company to Customers, without recourse to the Customers. The Directors will not have any rights over the Customer Shares to which the relevant Customers will be solely entitled on allotment.

The Company may in the future issue further 'A' Ordinary Shares for example, in order to fund acquisitions, such further issue of 'A' Ordinary Shares would only be effected if, in the opinion of the Directors, there is likely to be an increase in the overall value of all Shares. However, it is the intention of the Directors that Customers should always have a significant stake in the Company.

The Customer Shares will not be listed on any exchange and there is no trading market for any of the Customer Shares. However the Directors intend to explore ways of making the shares tradeable within the next three years.

The Customer Shares will be effectively forfeited if the holder does not remain a customer of Green Energy UK Plc for a period of 3 calendar years from the date of allotment.

Directors

The Directors of the Company are:-

Sir Peter Thompson, Age 79 – Chairman

Sir Peter has spent a lifetime in business being Chairman of NFC PLC, F.I.GROUP PLC, Community Hospitals Plc and Child Base Ltd. He led the successful employee buy-out of NFC from the Government and as a result of it success, many of the drivers and fitters who invested in the company saw their share values rise 120 times over a 9 year period. A similar pattern followed when the F.I.GROUP employee buy-out was achieved in 1991. This has made him interested in different ownership models and Green Energy's proposed share structure which will be a modernised form of consumer capitalism, continues his involvement with wider share ownership.

Douglas Stewart, Age 51 - Chief Executive

Doug Stewart is a graduate of Southampton University (Econ & Law) who spent his formative career at Ford Motor company in a number of sales and service roles including some interesting years in Northern Ireland. From Ford he joined a start-up recruitment exhibition company specialising in information technology markets which became the largest of its kind, before setting up his own business back in the motor business 5 years later retailing Volkswagen and Audis as a franchised dealer. Having sold his motor business at the turn of the millennium, he found himself in the fortunate position of being able to choose and decide what to do next. The blueprint was an ethically sound business that made a contribution to the wider issues of life through commerce. Deciding the newly deregulated electricity markets offered just such an opportunity, he formed Green Energy UK plc, with the express intent (shared by the rest of the Board) of offering a product that rewarded consumers who took active steps to do something about the wider environmental issues facing 21st century society.

Ramsay Dunning ACMA, Age 53 - Director

Ramsay Dunning is a former farmer and now an accountant who has worked for W H Brady Co. Ltd in a number of financial positions with both UK and European responsibilities as well as Oxford Electrical Products Ltd as Managing Director. For recreation he climbs mountains and has a passionate interest in the environmental impact of global warming on the Ice Fields of the world's mountain ranges. He is a calculated risk taker as any mountaineer is and has researched and delivered on a number of varied commercial enterprises from bar-coding to precision instruments in a number of roles ranging from Chief Financial Officer to Chief Executive Officer.

Current Trading and Future Prospects

The Company has been trading since 2001. In 2006 it changed licence provider to Opus Energy limited for its access to the electricity markets and balancing and settlement code. The Company entered into the Licence Agreement with Opus Energy Limited on 19 January 2006. The Licence Agreement provides that the Licence Provider shall supply electricity to Customers within England, Scotland and Wales, and enter into Customer Agreements with Customers. The Company also enters into Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs) with generators and is required to pay the Licence Provider in respect of electricity used over and above that for which it has PPAs, and management charge, and certain other fees. The Licence Agreement may be terminated by either party giving 18 months written notice.

Further financial information on the Company is set out in the accounts in Part 2 of this document.

Dividend Policy

The Directors intend to retain the Company's earnings to be used for working capital. However, the Directors intend in the longer term to commence the payment of dividends on the Shares when it becomes commercially prudent to do so. The Company has the right to credit Customers' electricity bills with any dividends payable.

Risk Factors

You should be aware that the development of the Company's business and its operational and financial condition could be adversely affected by a number of risks and other factors including the following:

1. The business strategy of the Company is a relatively new concept.
2. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve its business objectives.
3. The market place in which the Company operates is highly competitive. Other providers of similar services may offer attractive packages and benefits which may hamper the ability of the Company to attract Customers and therefore generate revenues.
4. The Company is dependent upon third party generators of electricity, its Licence Provider, the National Grid and regional electricity companies delivering electricity to Customers. If these parties fail to deliver acceptable levels of service, or if the Company is unable to acquire the necessary services on commercial terms the ability of the Company to offer its Services could be affected.
5. Any potential changes in the legislation or regulations relating to electricity generation and supply may restrict the activities of the Company.
6. The Company's trading results could suffer if there is a downturn in the UK economy in general or in the Company's sector in particular.
7. Customer Shares may be re-deemed for a total of one pence for a Customer's entire holding (the right to which Customers will waive) at the option of the Company in the event that the holders cease to be Customers of the Company in the first three years after the issue of Customer Shares to them.
8. There is no recognised market for the Shares so that it may be difficult for a holder of Shares to sell any such shares after the initial 3 year period or to obtain reliable information about the value of such shares or the extent of the risks to which Shares may be exposed. The Company cannot guarantee that the value of the Shares will increase nor that the Shares have any value now or will have any value at any time in the future.
